PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Your GMO cares about what you think, want, and need when it comes to this organization. I cannot tell you how often the Board of Trustees discusses how to provide our membership with benefits that they value.

Recently, you were asked to partake in a poll via our email blast about the benefits of ESDCTA. I hope you voted. It asks just one question, so it is not time consuming. If you did not answer it the first time, you can still go back to the Constant Contact email and vote.

This information helps us in our strategic planning as we go forward. The Board of Trustees will be changing, as my term is expires at the end of the year, and others are also making way for new people to take leadership roles. We believe this is a good time to determine what our goals are for the future.

The board members have answered these questions, as well. But we have learned that, despite what we would like to have ESDCTA provide, sometimes it is not financially possible. These become the tough times for making tough decisions, despite our personal preferences.

I like the educational opportunities and the information that is readily accessible through the newsletter, omnibus, and website. But, after six years of being on this board, I find the greatest benefit to be what I have learned from my other board members. Sharing not only their organizational skills and experience, but their passion and creativity that has inspired me.

Their knowledge about horses and showing and competitions is mind-boggling. They all bring something of interest to the table that increases my own knowledge about the animal and the sport. Learning from each other has made me a better equestrian.

When the nominating committee begins its search for board members, I often wonder why someone would not seize the opportunity to enjoy the experience of working and learning with fellow equestrians. The rewards are so great. I understand that people are busy, but I hope they understand that they are missing an incredible opportunity, not just to make sure this great club keeps on ticking, but to enhance their own horsemanship and knowledge.

So, consider being on the board. You can email Jen Morris at bigsurknoll@gmail.com to find out what it entails. You have nothing to lose by asking.

CROSS COUNTRY... New Across our Region

COMMUNITY NEWS

What's better than sticky fingers from caramel apples and funnel cakes, wind-blown hair from roller coasters, and winning a giant teddy bear from a game of chance? Not much! It's 4-H county fair season! Many an accomplished equestrian got their start showing their ponies at the county fair. Why not stop by your local fair and support the new crop of up-and-coming horsemen and horsewomen? And grab an ice cream cone along the way. And, while you're thinking of the youngsters, maybe you could volunteer an hour and give a talk to a local club about dressage or eventing. Today's leadline kid may just become the next Olympic Champion, but it would never happen if they hadn't heard how much fun it was to chase circles around the sandbox or jump through hill and dale.

WHAT'S YOUR TALENT??

THE START BOX Eventing News

"THINKING FASTER WITH ERIC SMILEY"

By Dr. Carey Williams and Hillary Horton

First off, it was hot and rainy! However as Beth Sokohl, the clinic organizer said, "We eventers really know how to make lemons into lemonade!" Inspired by our gorgeous surroundings, three days away from our "real" jobs and the contagious energy and enthusiasm of Eric Smiley, our one day of indoor riding that turned into three did not disappoint! On the first three days of July, the two of us, Carey Williams and Hillary Horton, traveled to Sunset Hill Farm in Woodbine, MD, for three days of instruction with Ireland's great Eric Smiley, four-time Eventing Olympian, who now resides on the south coast of England.

Carey's horse Skip, a 7 year old OTTB, who ended his successful racing career at 5 years old with a bowed tendon, has been with Carey for almost 2 years and has been competing in eventing for about 8 months, taking at least second place at pretty much every event he has been to. As Carey put it, "He has a great mind which is why we get along so well; however. I have never came across such a lazy racehorse! Which is why I went to the Eric Smiley Clinic, hoping he could help me find some way to wake him up!" And wake him up we did. Hillary and her new mare Bailey, a 5-year-old Buckskin TB (yes, that is a Jockey Club registered Buckskin!), have been together for just 4 months and are still in the getting to know each other phase of their partnership.

Day 1 was dressage day where it was very appropriate that Skip and Bailey were paired together due to the fact that they both needed a little bit of 'sparkle' added to their step. Eric first demonstrated how to make the horse listen to the 'correct amount of leg' by using the dressage whip effectively and making it 'hiss,' which got an immediate response from both horses. Once the horses were responding to a light leg we worked on quick transitions to engage their hind legs even more. After they had their feet moving, lateral work was introduced. Eric suggested "walking" turns on the forehand to keep their hind end stepping around. These were eventually followed by moving out of the turn into trot. Both pairs felt the real power of the hind end pushing them into the trot instead of the usual sluggish upward transition. After improving the quality of the upwards transitions, Eric moved on to instructing both girls on how to improve the promptness and smoothness of the downward transitions, using the horses' natural anticipation to develop the canterto-halt transition – surprising the riders that their horses were so balanced!

Day 2 was stadium jumping exercises which were brought inside due to the inclement weather. The theme of this day was "the LINE is PRIMARY". Skip and Bailey were not paired together but all of the groups focused on finding the "correct canter," keeping it over a pole on the ground and then riding positively forward on lines and courses without chasing to the jump. No matter what the line or how many strides you got, the correct way to ride was to keep the canter consistent and not let them get too slow or too fast before and after fences. Riders did this by looking toward each fence and NOT focusing on making corners too deep where the horse might drift past the line or add needless seconds to the round. This was difficult for those of us who have been taught for years to go into our corners, but each of us could see where this would be a very useful skill for the course walking tool kit. The higher level groups practiced exercises to help with adjustability, such as jumping a five-stride line with four or six strides, while the greener groups worked on developing the horses' initiative to take the ride to the fence.

On Day 3 we all woke up a bit of disappointed when we looked outside to find it pouring rain, again. However, we all knew the smart decision was to move cross-country day indoors. Luckily, Eric had a bunch of tricks up his sleeves and did not disappoint! With bounces, coops, triple bars, corners, liverpools and skinnies (oh my!) made with stadium jumps and other strange items (like mounting blocks!) we had a productive session teaching the horses to think quickly and look for their next fence. Tight turns were a recurring theme for all of the groups (except the real greenies). Eric emphasized trusting the horse to "make a decision" about the distance while the rider focused on line and speed control - faster for some and less for others. Staying on the line gave green horses confidence and permitted them to assess each new jump (some of them built to look very odd). One thing we both admired about Eric was his emphasis, especially with the greener horses, on giving them permission to look and assess the situation as long as they were still moving forward to the jump. Skip's technique improved remarkably as he learned to coil his energy on the turn and use power from the hind end to jump with impulsion. For Bailey, a talented but naturally cautious mare, confidence was the name of the game as Eric patiently taught her to tackle her first liverpool, chevron, corner, and bounce. Remembering what our job is - setting up the horse to make the right decision and allowing him to jump without interference - was critical as this day's lesson went on, and the turns got tighter, and the jumps got more and more difficult. Both horses grew up A LOT and seemed very proud of themselves!

It was simply wonderful to spend three days riding and observing – having a chance to see Eric, one of the true masters of eventing, improve pair after pair was inspiring and humbling. As an added bonus, we feel much more prepared for Bailey's first event and Skip's move-up to recognized Novice at the end of July.

SAVANNAH GIFFITHS

By: Rebecca Kuc

Savannah is entering ninth grade at the Pennsylvania Leadership Charter School. She has been riding for four years and rides at Hearts Journey Stables in Wind Gap, PA, training with USDF Bronze Medalist Melissa Morehouse. Savannah has been competing for about two and a half years now and competes a 14.2h pony named Gabe!

Honest Abe, or Gabe, is a Clydesdale Welsh pony that Savannah leases. Although he can have a pony attitude and mentality at times, he's an awesome little pony who excels in both dressage and jumping. Currently, Savannah is competing Gabe at Training Level with the hopes of trying First Level later in the season. Savannah also plans on earning all of her scores for her ESDCTA Bronze Medal this season!

Although she loves dressage, Savannah also enjoys jumping. At the end of the 2012 season, she tried a show at Combined Training. Over the winter, the pair continued to train for dressage but also for the hunters, and this season they are competing in both events. They even won 2nd place at their first hunter show!

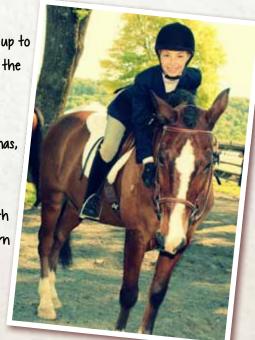

Savannah loves that dressage is crisp and clean, but also loves the exhilaration that you get with jumping! She also loves competing, and who doesn't love a little competition?! She enjoys getting the feedback from the judges so that she can see what she needs to improve. She also loves traveling to the different places to compete, and Gabe loves going on the trailer, which helps!

Long term, Savannah hopes to someday try eventing and she would love to work her way up to Fourth Level Dressage. Her goals also include trying First Level by the end of the season and jumping a two-foot course.

Aside from riding, Savannah is very artistic. She not only loves to draw and paint, but loves photography, as well. After getting a nice camera for Christmas, she now uses it all of the time. Her and her friend formed a photography business where they take equine photos at shows. She has also done photographs for some of the kids she babysits. Savannah also keeps busy with karate, which she has been doing for four and a half years. She hopes to earn her black belt in another two years.

We wish Savannah the best of luck for the rest of the season and in finishing her ESDCTA Bronze Medal!

HORSE TREATS

By Meredith Rogers

Congratulations, you won a blue ribbon! In the United States, it would mean a first-place finish but if you were in Canada, it would mean you got second (still not too shabby), and if you were in the Netherlands, an orange ribbon would mean you topped them all. If you find yourself jet setting to horse shows around the world or just watching some form of equestrian sport on television, the chart below should help you decipher who won and who almost won.

The Rewards of Volunteering

by Julia Peterson

Volunteers at ESDCTA events are a diverse group, comprising a wide range of ages and interests, some are children, others are more "seasoned" adults, some are active competitors, but there are also former riders. The common theme is that they all share a common love of horses and devotion to equestrian sports. There are many people responsible for ESDCTA's numerous activities and events, and just as many roles, responsibilities, and tasks that need to be accomplished.

Those whom you meet and interact with at ESDCTA competitions are the most visible. From the Show Secretary, who fields countless questions, to the Ring Steward who offers a kind word to soothe someone's jitters; they serve as ambassadors, in a sense, not only for the event, but for competition and equestrian sports in general. There are also those who work in the background, devoting many hours to planning, organizing, and countless other details, to ensure the event's success.

The ESDCTA Memorial Weekend Dressage Show CDI*/, one of the showcase events for ESDCTA, could not have materialized without the efforts of its many members and supporters, including those who help before and during the show. For such a large event it's quite unusual that it's run entirely by volunteers. And those same volunteers contribute to the positive atmosphere of the event. Indeed, the show has been described as very "user-friendly" with some competitors citing the volunteers as one of their favorite aspects of the show experience.

Peggy Christ, an adult amateur rider who competed at this year's Memorial Weekend Dressage Show at Intermediaire-I, is also a longtime volunteer. She not only enjoys helping out, but learns from the experience, as well. When not competing, she's often scribing, an activity that she finds very educational. "You can never know it all. I try to scribe as much as I can, and I love to scribe at this [ESDCTA Memorial Weekend Dressage] show." Christ cites another incentive for people to volunteer; "It's important to remember that volunteerism helps keep showing costs in check. If people don't volunteer, then the cost of showing will necessarily get more expensive."

While volunteerism is certainly about "giving back" and goodwill, there are other rewards, as well. In addition to giving, volunteers get much in return. It's an opportunity to get together with fellow horse lovers, contribute one's expertise, and learn new skills or further develop existing ones. And, all involved share in the satisfaction of a successful event.

Devotion to horses, a passion for dressage, and a willingness to give back to the sport. These traits apply not only to all of the competitors but to the show's organizers and many volunteers. Volunteers are at the heart of GMOs, including the ESDCTA. In volunteering, members have an opportunity to support ESDCTA, knowing their efforts are needed and appreciated.

ESDCTA would like to thank the following people for volunteering at the Memorial Weekend Dressage Show, recognizing that their involvement helped to make the event a success: Beth Ann Adams, Keith Adams, Kari Allen, Ayushi Bhatt, Nancy Boncarousky, Felicia Borrero, Phyllis Martin-Borrero, Gail Bott, Ellen Bundle Clark, Jessica Clark, Nancy Clark, Carol Conner, Daniella Corrente, Terry Correia, Debbie DelGiorno, Amy French, Nancy Frenick, Jean Goeltz, Adele Hearn, Morgan Heritage, Valerie Heritage, Barbara Isaacs, Eva Karkas, Donna King, Elaine Landy, Lynette McMoran, Gerry Merriam, Molly Moon, Jennifer Moran, Ruth Munroe, Amy Peterson, Julia Peterson, Elis Priori, Tammy Purdy, Julia Reed, Dennis Reese, Nancy Rowbotham, Tiffany Ruocco, Nancy Schmidt, Ann Schneider, Victoria Shelton, Gaelle Spence, Lisa Toaldo, Tom Wilson, and Tracy Wilson.

Please consider volunteering at the ESDCTA Dressage and Eventing Championships, September 15, or the Garden State Classic, October 12-13. And, learn for yourself, the rewards of volunteering.

FOALIN' AROUND Youth News, Activities, and Opportunities

An Experience to Remember

By Madeline Griffith

This past weekend, I had the privilege of representing the ESDCTA at Lendon Gray's Youth Dressage Festival, riding Tramp's Snicker Bar at Second Level. My weekend began with just some of the many educational opportunities at the festival. First, I participated in the unofficial vet jog, where all riders at or above Second Level learn how a vet jog works at an international competition. Then came the first official part of the competition: the written test. Each age division is given 2 required reading books. I studied mine well and came out as the overall written test champion with a 99%! I also won one of the many special awards given over the weekend, the Big Ben Memorial Award, for my performance on the written test.

Saturday was the main day of competition. My morning began with a Dressage Seat Equitation class, and then my dressage test. Snickers and I had some great rides, and though we didn't place in either class Saturday, we earned some decent scores, which helped our overall results. By taking the average of these two riding classes and the written test, I received my overall score of 80.89% and 8th place in my division!

Saturday evening was probably the best part of the weekend. I met up with some fellow ESDCTA members and we formed a team, the Jersey Devils, to enter the stall decorating contest and the team competition. Our circus theme blew the judges away when we dressed up our horses as circus animal and paraded them around the show grounds! We had a lot of fun with it, and won the stall decorating contest – not to mention we also came in 4th place in Division C of the team competition.

Before departing on Sunday, I participated in some of the "fun classes." I entered the dressage trail class – dressage with trail style obstacles – and the prix caprilli – dressage with jumps. I not only had a great time with these classes, but came out with great results as well: 1st place in dressage trail with a 78.5%, and 2nd place in Prix Caprilli with a 65.8%!

Overall, it was definitely a fantastic weekend. I am so glad I have had the opportunity to attend the festival for the past couple of years. I would not hesitate to apply for the ESDCTA team again, and encourage any other youth members to do so as well. This is not only a great educational opportunity and a fun competition, but an amazing opportunity to experience the fun and camaraderie of making new friends and competing as a team. It's definitely an experience not to be missed!
