GO YOUTH DRESSAGE TEAM!

By: Kylie Dickinson

The crowd applauded the Eastern States Gaits as we cantered around the arena with reserve champion neck ribbons and medals during the final awards ceremony at the 2013 Region One Youth Team Competition at Morven Park in Leesburg Virginia. At the time it seemed as if the journey there was a breeze for us, but we all had our own share of difficulties that we learned from and made us a well-rounded team of aspiring dressage riders.

Our diverse group consisted of Alexandra Bielinski riding Skip, Zip, and Zap at starter W/T/C, Sophia Calve on her pony, Goose Landings Medallions Thor, at second level, Laurel Perweiler showing training level on Starlight, and myself, Kylie Dickinson, showing first level with Ishtar. Throughout the competition we proudly displayed our ESDCTA sponsorship with noticeable matching polos and showed our team unity by decorating our stalls with a Harry Potter theme. Ravenclaw, Gryffindor, Slytherin, and Hufflepuff are the four houses in the book series that were each assigned to the four horses by our chef, Jessie Kuc. After an extensive amount of time setting up the stalls, braiding, bathing, tack cleaning, and a little team bonding, we were ready to try our luck in the show ring.

Saturday, July 27, was full of successful rides from our mixed level team and at the end of the first day, our team was in 3rd place in our division. Sunday, July 28, brought improvement in most of our scores, allowing us to finish the weekend in 2nd place in our division. Additionally, ESDCTA generously distributed a "Most Improved Score" award to Sophia Calve and her pony "Thor" as well as a "High Score Award" to Ishtar and me. Although our team came into the competition slightly nervous and hesitant because we weren't familiar with each other and the other horses, we had a smooth and enjoyable weekend thanks to all of the support and help we received from ESDCTA, The Kuc Family, and many other parents and friends who were always willing to lend a hand when necessary. The experience gained from going to a youth competition was priceless and the variety of lessons I learned in Virginia, as well as during other unique youth programs ESDCTA offers, will undoubtedly remain with me throughout my infinite years in the horse world. I am confident that Alex, Sophia, Laurel, and I can all agree that we had a positive experience at The 2013 Region One Youth Team Competition and we will all look forward to more opportunities like this, where we can represent the ESDCTA and have fun doing it.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I would be remiss if I did not talk about the new ESDCTA website that the Board of Trustees and I have promised this past year. Well, the good news is that it looks like we will finally be able to launch it before the year ends.

When we decided to get a new website, we put it out to bid. Not only were we interested in the best price, we were interested in the best website, not wanting to have to reinvent it again in a couple of years, but more importantly, wanting the best state-of-the-art site that would meet the needs of our members and attract new members.

We have done that through a lot of hard work, back and forth with the designers and with the web site committee. I cannot tell you how many hours our never-complaining, never-whining, never-get-angry Gary Maholic has put into this project to make it just right. He has never faltered, even when he has had major other responsibilities at his "real job" and for that we will always be grateful.

So, please be a little more patient. The committee and I do feel you will be amazed at the new site and want to access it and all the information it will be offering, as well as the ease of show and competition entries, access to the Omnibus, and to our supporting businesses.

On another note, I want to take this time to wish one of our long-time board members and former presidents, Marsha Montgomery, a speedy recover following an accident with her horse.

Marsha has contributed to ESDCTA for years in so many different roles, bringing a strength and direction to the organization that, to this day, continues to make a difference. She has served as volunteer coordinator, nominating chairperson, president, and worn hats I don't even know about.

During my tenure as the current president, Marsha has been a mentor and a guide through some very difficult issues. She has always been fair in her assessment, and has been a forward thinker. The Board of Trustees and I wish her the best.

~~~~~

I have just told you about two, long-time members of ESDCTA and its Board of

Trustees. These people have given, given, given to our organization, and always focused on making it the best it can be for our members. Their skills, insight and just plain elbow grease have kept this GMO moving forward with vision and purpose.

If we could clone them, we would. Alas, that is not going to happen. But we also don't have to when we have a membership of 600 strong with skills and knowledge and most of all, heart and commitment to ESDCTA.

YOU can be a driving force in ESDCTA's future. YOU can make a difference. YOU can keep our focus on education and out sport strong.

The Nominating Committee is interviewing members to serve as officers (and committee chairs) on the Board of Trustees. The Board meets once a month, both face-to-face and on-line. Committee work is mostly on-line with some face-to-face meetings. In addition to giving, you would be rewarded with the best education anywhere about our sports, showing, horsemanship, and horses through the work and comradery of being on the Board.

We ask that you consider it. Please look at the Board of Trustees roster on page 2. Wherever your interest lies – president, vice president, member-at-large for either Dressage or Eventing, education, activities – there is a spot for you.

PLEASE contact Jen Morris, Nominating Committee chairperson to find out how you can help ESDCTA be the organization YOU want it to be while making sure it continues to succeed and flourish. Email Jen at nominating@esdcta.org by Sept. 10.

COMMUNITY NEWS

We know you are busy and being pulled in many directions, but the ESDCTA needs you. We are a volunteer organization that won't survive without volunteers – no more shows, clinics, newsletter, or local community. Even if you can only commit 1 hour a month (or 1 hour a year), you can make a difference to your club. We need writers for the newsletter, volunteers at our horse shows, members for our committees, and even just input about our offerings. We want the ESDCTA to meet your needs, but we don't know what they are unless you get involved – or just speak up. Your opinions are appreciated and your skills are valued. Contact any of us on page 2 of this newsletter to help us help you.

THE START BOX

Eventing News

Ready or not, the fall season is nearly here. If you have kids, or were ever a school kid yourself, you probably think the season coincides with the beginning of the school year – easy. So who needs to follow the calendar? You do – if you want to take advantage of the terrific riding opportunities that this time of year offers.

By now, you should have submitted your entry for the ESDCTA Eventing Championships and Open Schooling Horse Trials. Closing date was August 19, but entries will be accepted through September 8 at the discretion of the organizer and will be subject to a $35 late fee. Set at the Horse Park of New Jersey, the event promises terrific facilities, quality jumps, and welcoming terrain.

Coming off your terrific showing at the event on September 15, you'll be set for another run for the blue at the ESDCTA NJ Horse Trials on October 5 and 6. This USEA, USEF #316845, ESDCTA-registered event offers levels from starter through preliminary. See Omnibus pages 99-100 for details. The closing date for this event is September 17. This event will also take place at the centrally located Horse Park of New Jersey. The venue is very horse and rider friendly.

ESDCTA is hosting an open Cross Country Schooling Day at the Horse Park of New Jersey on October 13. Did you have a sticky fence at one of the horse trials? This is your opportunity master it. Did the fences at the level higher than you've been showing seem inviting as you galloped past them? This schooling day is your chance to try them out with no pressure. No preregistration is required. See page 144 in the Omnibus for details.

Fall is a fabulous time to be out enjoying your horse. There are, however, a few things to keep in mind. Some horses are quick to become woolly mammoths. They may overheat or become soaked in sweat galloping cross country. Try to inhibit extreme hair growth by using sheets early in the season. If you lose that battle, consider a full or trace clip. Rinsing your horse requires a bit of planning as the temperature drops. The water you have stored in your trailer can be quite cool if the prior night was chilly. Set your filled buckets or carriers in the sun when you arrive at the event to take the edge off. Your horse will appreciate a more moderate bath, and you or your groom won't mind missing ice water splashes.

Do you remember that dressage jacket that you were excused from wearing all summer? Well you had better find it and make sure it's clean. Don't pile on layers to beat the early morning chill only to find out that you are as immobile as the little brother in The Christmas Story. Invest in a quality athletic stealthy undergarment before you head to the show. Check its fit with your jacket on. Make sure that the fuchsia or lime green does show above your stock tie.

Fall can be pressure filled for some riders. There's that sense of fear that the season is ending and not all goals may have been met. Don't fall into that trap. Unless you are a professional, your absolute priority should be enjoyment. Who cares if you haven't won at your current level or if you haven't finished with a final score under 30 or 35 or 40? Don't move up just because the number of remaining events this year is diminishing. Keep in mind that many events increase in difficulty throughout the year. It may just be that you do not be recognizing your improvements over time.

Speaking of difficulty, would you know what to do in the situation that the ESDCTA Youth training level riders faced at Millbrook this year? Mid-course there was a line consisting of a significant drop into the water, a run through the water and a table downhill from the water. This was a relatively straight line except for the fact that the novice fence out of the water was in the line. The training riders could choose to exit the water to the side, but that could cost time or fluidity. Riders were permitted to jump the novice fence because it was in their path and at a lower level. Just something to think about.

ESDCTA FALL POSITION AND SADDLE SYMPOSIUM FOR ALL DISCIPLINES

OCTOBER 4-6, 2013

Dressage Olympian Dorothy Morkis and Master Saddler David Young The Symposium will consist of a lecture Friday night featuring Dororothy Morkis (1976 Olympic Bronze Team Medalist) and her experiences throughout her life with regard to making an Olympic team, how dressage has changed over the years, and how a riders position effects the horse. David Young, Master Saddler will compliment the discussion by explaining the construction of the saddle, with visual aids such as trees and all parts of the saddle. He will explain the parts of the saddle that are for the horse and those which are for the rider and how they affect the balance in both the rider and horse. The objective of the Symposium is to provide a tool by which riders of every discipline can evaluate the components of position in order to ultimately enhance their ride.

Saturday and Sunday will be 8 Sessions rides which will start with an evaluation of the saddle on your horse and will follow with a position lesson with Dorothy Morkis.

Riders Fees:

$240.00 per member session private - $260,00 per non member, includes Friday Lecture, saddle evaluation and position lesson. Additional fee for saddle fitting.

THE YOUTH HAVE IT!

By Georgia DiRoberto, who was the recipient of the Lendon Youth Dressage Festival Education Grant

This year I had the opportunity to compete at Lendon Gray's Youth Dressage Festival with the help of a grant from ESDCTA. It was a great time! I competed in the Intro division with my pony Cadence. Cadence is a 12.3 h 18-year-old Welsh cross pony that I have been riding since I was 6. Cadence was a great pony. We scored a 67% in our practice test, a 71% on our competition test and a 69% in the Prix Caprilli! We were third in our division out of 14 kids. This was a very special show for me as I am getting very tall and this will probably be the last time I can ride Cady at the YDF.

My friend and teammate, Eleanor Stothoff, and I needed to find two more kids to compete with in the team competition. Much to our surprise we were paired with two other ESDCTA Members. Together we decorated our tack room as a circus and made costumes for each of our horses. On Saturday night, we paraded our horses in their costumes around the show grounds and played circus music. Everyone laughed and came out to cheer us on. Lendon Gray came out of the office and said, "You guys are awesome!" We were really excited when later that night we were awarded first place for the tack room decorating contest. My teammates also had great rides, and together we placed fourth in Division D for the team competition.

I learned so much at the YDF. I learned that working on a team is so much fun! Helping your teammates have a great day is so rewarding! We were so proud of everything we accomplished. I learned that studying for the written test is very, very important and one point on the written test could be the difference between third and first! I learned that without a wonderful four-legged partner I have nothing, so above all and before all, my pony comes first. I learned that hard work pays off.

I hope that I get the opportunity to compete at YDF again next year. It is the most fun thing that I have done so far with my pony. I am already thinking hard of how I can decorate my tack room next year! Thank you ESDCTA!

CENTERLINE Dressage News

By Julia Peterson

While summer is winding down and autumn is around the corner, there are still many outdoor equestrian activities to look forward to in our area. The ESDCTA has some exciting events lined up for September and October.

On Sunday, September 15, The Horse Park of New Jersey will host the 2013 ESDCTA Dressage and Eventing Championships. There will be lots to see and do there, with dressage classes in multiple rings, stadium jumping, and cross-country. And if you work up an appetite, there will be food available as well.

On the weekend of October 5 and 6, the ESDCTA New Jersey Horse Trials, part of The Horse Park of New Jersey Eventing Challenge Series, will take place at HPNJ.

On the following weekend, October 12 and 13, the ESDCTA presents the Garden State Classic Dressage Show, a benefit show for the Kessler Research Foundation, also at the Horse Park of New Jersey.

These events provide riders with opportunities to compete outdoors and perhaps garner some more points before the end of show season, in anticipation of year-end awards. For non-competitors the shows offer the chance to see beautiful horses and watch the cross-country action. What better way to spend the day than by enjoying some great activities in a beautiful setting!

Please visit ESDCTA's website at esdcta.org for more information.

THE ESDCTA IS ENTERING THE MODERN AGE

A new age has come. The ESDCTA will offer the 2014 Omnibus in electronic form to all members. For show managers, this will have a major impact on your shows making it possible to reach more members through the ESDCTA website and updating your show information.

This will also be a benefit to our members since the prize lists will be posted to our website before the end of the year so competitors can start planning their show season earlier.

The calendar will be on the website and can be viewed in different formats, and along with the Google Maps feature, will allow competitors to find out where each show is located.

An index of shows will be e-blasted to all members once a month to keep everyone advised of all of the available shows.

Delivering the Omnibus on line has increased ESDCTA's ability to improve the information delivery to the show's target audience and competitors. The added ability to make corrections and add shows during the show season is a state-of-the-art feature, changing the Omnibus from a static document to something that evolves throughout the year and provides the competitor with the latest, up-to-date information.

I will be contacting show managers soon with all of the information for registering a show in the new electronic way, along with the 2013 show calendar and new fee structure. As always, those with set show dates will have the chance to renew, and new dates can be added, as well. Show dates need to be picked by October 15, and prize lists need to be ready for posting by November 1. These can be updated with judge, show secretary, and manager information, etc. at any time with the new electronic delivery.

Looking forward to working with all of you again this year.
